Ms. Kivowitz:

I apologize that today got away from me and I am now headed back out of the office to a client.

Would you be available to chat tomorrow morning?

Thank you.

One more thing – Mr. Gross asked that I email him the revised documents and gave me an email address which is apparently wrong because his email bounced back. Could you please take care of forwarding the documents to him. Thanks.

Ms. Kivowitz:

I will be out of the office until late morning tomorrow, but will review these materials and give you a call. It does not appear to me that the tolling agreement referenced in your letter to William Gross does not seem to be attached to your email. Can you please email me a copy of that proposed agreement for my review and discussion with our client?

Thank you.

Subject: New Cassel/Hicksville Groundwater Contamination Superfund Site -- William Gross

Dear Mr. Cohen,

I just left you a voicemail message. I just got off the phone with your client, William Gross. I'm sorry but I didn't realize he was represented by you. I recently sent him a letter (attached hereto) informing him that I had inadvertently left him off of the PRP list for settlement negotiations for a settlement agreement and order on consent for OU1 at the New Cassel Hicksville Groundwater Contamination Site and inviting him to join the settlement discussions. He called me today to say that you were his counsel. I informed him that I was about to send revised documents to all of the parties and that I would add you to the list. He asked that I send it to him as well. Please be advised that David Batson has been retained as a neutral convener to work with the PRPs to find agreement amongst themselves. I have cc'd him on this email. We are hoping to meet with the parties in my office on Tuesday,

ED_001164_00018530-00002

8/16 at 1:00 pm. I'm hoping you can join us.

Please call me at 212-637-3183 at your convenience so we can discuss this further.

Thank you.
